Before we convert to PDF and release the e-book, we'll go through to check each link for validity...
Checking Links Before Conversion

Here is one we find is no longer a live site, but rather a domain parking page....

http://www.lancepost.com/ - This website finds different job openings for the...[Ctrl-click to open hyperlink: http://www.lancepost.com/]

All such non-working links will be removed
Each link should be tested to avoid unnecessary frustration for your customers, or a loss of leads and income for you!

Converting the Document to a PDF

Click on the Export Directly as PDF button which will bring up the following dialog box...

It's a good idea to avoid overwriting the original just in case of any problems. We'll name this: Online-Job-Final
Once the new PDF is saved, open it up in your viewer to check that the formatting remained intact, and that all hyperlinks are functioning properly.
Adding a Border to the Page

To add a border to the pages of your e-book, you can do so easily by setting up a new page style.

To begin, go to Format => Styles and Formatting...

This will bring up the dialog box.
Select the Page Styles button from the top row.
Now you have a list of the currently existing page styles that are available.
Select Default from the list, right-click, and select New...

This will bring up the Page Style Dialog box...
You should already be in the Organizer area. If not, select it from the available tabs at the top.

Rename from Untitled1 to Page Border. This will add it to the available styles for Next Style, which is what you’ll select.
Next we'll set the border style for the document...
1) Select the Borders tab.
2) Select the Line arrangement. In this instance we've chosen Set All Four Borders
3) Set the Spacing to Contents. 0.10” is a reasonable amount of padding. If it looks crowded, you can set it to a greater distance.
4) Select the desired Line Style.
5) Select the desired color for the Border from the Color drop-down box.

Click OK to close the box and set the new Page style...
Then, click inside of any page of the document and double-click the new Page Border style to apply.

At this point, we have far too much white space surrounding the text area. We'll take care of that by adjusting the margins.
Setting the Page Margins

To set the page margins, select Format => Page...

This will bring up the Page Styles dialog box.

When the Dialog box opens, the Page modification area should already appear. If not, select the Page tab from the top row.

We'll choose 0.75” for all four Margins as well as Right and left for the Page layout under Layout settings.

The layout settings would be quite different if we were preparing the e-book for print publication. However, it's beyond the scope of this guide and will be covered in a separate guide specific to that purpose.
The results are considerably more appealing to the eye...
