

Calculating The Overall Cost For Your Undergraduate Degree Program In Yemen

One of the important factors that you need to figure out before joining your accredited degree program in Yemen is your affordability. You will have to calculate the overall cost for your undergraduate degree program in Yemen. Here are some of the important factors that will contribute towards the overall expenses.

#1 Course Fee

This is one of the major expenses. When you are budgeting for your undergraduate degree program, you will need to include course fee on top of your list. What you need to remember here is this is a variable figure and it will depend very much on the university in which you are enrolling for your degree program. Each university in Yemen has their own fee structure. You will have to first find the course fee details of the universities in which you are planning to enroll. Your course fee will also vary based on the courses in which you are planning to enroll. The cost therefore does not only vary from one university to the other but it also varies within the university from one course to the other. You should also take into account other secondary expenses other than the course fee that you may have to pay the university such as the examination fee, lab fee, developmental fee, etc.

#2 Accommodation

If you are planning to move closer to the university, you will need to rent an apartment or a room. This is applicable for international students as well. This will be the second major expense and this will be a recurring monthly expense. The rental value will increase year after year. When you are calculating the expenses try to give room for such escalations. You can have just an approximate figure in this column because until you rent an apartment, you will not know how much it is going to cost you exactly.

#3 Food

If you are living with your parents, you will not have the accommodation or the food expenses but if you are going to be on your own, you will have to either cook your food or find food options outside. Either way, it is going to contribute to a major portion of the overall budget. Here again you can only have approximate figures.

#4 Travel

If you are an international student, it will form the major portion of the expenses. It will also depend on how frequently you want to fly home. Even otherwise, you may have local transportation expenses. This will vary based on how far you are staying from the campus.

#5 Books

You will need to set aside certain budget for purchasing course materials and books for the program.

Al-Nasser University

You will be able to find affordable undergraduate degree programs at Al-Nasser University. This is the best practical university in Yemen. There are numerous courses to choose from including cost effective dual degree programs. Students from various parts of the world enroll for their undergraduate degree programs in Al-Nasser University, Yemen.